

ELIZABETH, NJ, September 14, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Frederick Vincent , a New Jersey-based SEO provider offering a variety of services to the New Jersey and metro-New York business community, recently debuted three new logos within the gallery of custom logos on FrederickVincent.com.

Adding to their growing client base, the Frederick Vincent team is particularly proud of these designs as they help to show the creative breadth of the staff. Each logo is designed to capture the essence of the client's business while also displaying the personality of each company.

The first new logo, created for Long Island-based landscape firm Scott Design, represents the first created by Frederick Vincent for the very competitive landscape market that exists in the North East. As many companies within the landscape vertical have not shown a desire for a custom logo as of yet, the design by Frederick Vincent puts Scott Anderson Design on the cutting edge of landscape service branding.

The second logo , for Long Island-based pet health education provider SafePets, was a labor of love for the staff as many have pets and understand that knowing what to do in the case of a health emergency for these cherished family members is vital. It is with this in mind and understanding the work being done by SafePets that the logo seemed to create itself. It is also worth noting that with the logo designs for both Scott Design and SafePets, Frederick Vincent has now extended their target market to include Long Island as well.

The third new logo design is for Hush, a purveyor of fashion accessories for women. While this was not the first logo design for the fashion vertical that they have created, the team did want to flex their creative muscles and take on the challenge of creating a fun, feminine and flirtatious logo. The result was what they hope will become an enduring emblem for the innovative and trendy product lines that Hush offers.

The entire Frederick Vincent team is extremely pleased with the results as are their clients and they are looking forward to the release of more logos shortly. Knowing the intense competition that exists in the branding arena, especially in such close proximity to the center of advertising and branding that is New York City, Frederick Vincent will be looking to be on the cutting edge for years to come.
