LONG BEACH, CA, September 14, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Tredway Lumsdaine & Doyle LLP (TLD) announces the opening this month of a Los Angeles County regional location at Kilroy Business Center near Long Beach Airport. Conveniently located off the 405 freeway, the expansion allows the law firm to more readily serve its many clients throughout Los Angeles County, while also complementing its Orange County regional office near John Wayne Airport. The firm will retain offices in Downey and Beverly Hills for valued clients in those communities.

"Our goal is to further centralize our teams and enhance communication and collaboration across locations," said Daniel Gold, managing partner at TLD. "We are dedicated to providing the utmost legal expertise and knowledge to our clients in a broad range of matters, which has enabled us to be their trusted legal partners in life for more than 50 years."

The new location, designed by Long Beach design firm Kardent, is more than 9,000 sq. ft. and provides TLD attorneys, staff and clients with a contemporary environment filled with warm tones, natural light and glass doors - boasting an inviting, collective atmosphere. The space features 13 offices for partners and attorneys, all of equal size and with windows to promote openness and collaboration. The firm also installed an interactive media wall, which connects the two regional posts via Skype 24 hours a day. A cafe-style kitchen features an unconventional break room with booths and tables to encourage staff to stay in and eat lunch together.

The new office is located at 3900 Kilroy Airport Way, Suite 240, Long Beach 90806. TLD's current Long Beach site at One World Trade Center will close this month. For more information, please call 562-923-0971.
