GLEN ELLYN, IL, September 14, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Experienced Glen Ellyn dentist, Dr. Daniel DeLeon of DeLeon Family Dental, has developed and introduced a new blog on his practice's interactive website. With easy access to patient education, Dr. DeLeon maintains the ability to provide his patients with up to date information on valuable dental health care topics through his online blog.

Patients are now more informed than ever about various dental health care topics with the introduction of Dr. DeLeon's educational blog. From information regarding the practice to services offered this blog contains valuable information for the patient.

"I wanted patients to be as passionate about dental implants as I am. With every day advances, it is important to stay on top of the latest education and resources. As I learn more about different procedures and advances, I want my patients to learn them as well. Having a blog allows me to share information with patients and create a relationship with them that will keep them coming back to DeLeon Family Dentistry," says Dr. Daniel DeLeon, a Glen Ellyn, IL dentist.

Updated monthly, Dr. DeLeon's educational blog info allows the patient to search previous archives for the best information. As a family dentist in Glen Ellyn, Dr. DeLeon brings attention to vital information regarding various dental procedures and proper dental health care for his patients to perform on a regular basis. Additionally, this blog educates patients on making crucial decisions in regards to their teeth and create a trusting relationship between patient and dentist.

"If patients gain valuable information from this blog that allows them to be fully prepared for their dental procedures, the blog has done exactly what it was intended to do. It is my job as a general dentist to make sure my patients receive the best in quality care and that begins with patient knowledge," said Glen Ellyn cosmetic dentist, Dr. Daniel DeLeon.

DeLeon Family Dental is a full-service dental practice operated by leading general and cosmetic dentist in Glen Ellyn, Dr. Daniel DeLeon. Together with his team of dental professionals, Dr. DeLeon brings years to the dental profession and a passion for helping patients to achieve their healthiest smile. Additionally, the practice's website allows patients to meet the staff, learn more about dental procedures in the patient education section, and request an appointment, among other options.
