

Haunted Month Planned for Maryland Author/Scientist/Ghost Hunter

Written by Australian Business

BALTIMORE, MD, September 17, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Residents in the Mid-Atlantic can get in the spirit of Halloween by joining an author, ghost hunter, and scientist at various appearances throughout October. Beginning with an appearance at the famous

Baltimore Book Festival

on Sept. 29, you can meet and hear

Rob Gutro

explain the difference between ghosts and spirits, and how he uses science to explain them.

Rob wrote two books about his experiences: "Lessons Learned from Talking to the Dead," and

"Ghosts and Spirits: Insights from a Medium."

He has been educating people and sharing experiences for the last three years. In his books, he balances his scientific knowledge with his abilities and knowledge of the paranormal. His books contain very personal stories of loss and proof of the afterlife. He even proved to his own family that his father was attending his own funeral.

Gutro considers himself an average guy, who just happens to be able to hear, feel, sense and communicate with Earth-bound ghosts and spirits who have passed on. Because he's still developing his abilities, he considers himself a "medium rare." He has given many interviews and had appearances in the Washington Post, MSNBC, and the global paranormal radio program "Coast to Coast with George Noory."

He is part of the Inspired Ghost Tracking Group out of Jessup, Md.

In his latest book, "Lessons Learned," follow Rob on a treasure hunt-style journey as what seem to be random words, signs and symbols from a spirit, end up being intensely personal to the spirit. Learn that departed loved ones, human and animal, are still around family members. Find out what lessons the dead want us to know, encounter the ghost of John Wilkes Booth and others, and see picture-proof at a double murder investigation the author participated in with Inspired Ghost Tracking of Maryland. Rob also takes you into cemeteries, battlefields, and historic places. Learn what happens to victims of suicide and murders, and how infants and animals pass messages to the living.

His schedule is as follows:

- Sun., Sept. 29 from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. ET- a meet and greet at the Baltimore Book Festival under the Local Author's Tent next to famous Fantasy writer; I.R. Harris (Author of the Bound Trilogy - www.irharrisbooks.com) Baltimore Book Festival site: www.baltimorebookfestival.com
- Wed. Oct. 2 at 7 p.m. -
