I know they've been waiting to hear how the series comes to a dramatic conclusion, and it will not disappoint."

The Summit Murder Mystery Series features seven climbing murder mysteries that are each set atop one of the world's seven continental summits; the highest and most dangerous mountains in the world. In a clever twist, Charles G. Irion has added to the mix murder, suspense, and an enviable hero working for the U.S. Defense Intelligence agency, making for a truly original series. Inspired by Irion's 1987 Mt. Everest climb, and his 2011 Mt. Kilimanjaro climb, mountain climbers have stated Irion's has instilled the realism of the climb in each novel.
