

FLORENCE, ITALY, September 19, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- As the worldwide recognized capital of Fashion and Design, Milan offers a wide choice of Fashion and Design Courses to international students, both amateurs and professionals. Our city dictates the new trends and inspires designers and fashion lovers.

Scuola Leonardo da Vinci offers one of the widest curricula in fashion and design courses in Milan. You will have the opportunity of choosing among short term and long term fashion and design courses together with our well known offer of Italian language courses, experience the unique atmosphere of the capital of fashion and discover of the real "Made in Italy is produced".

Situated in an ideal location among NABA and Domus Academy, two of the finest fashion and design academies of Milan, Scuola Leonardo da Vinci is able to offer courses for both amateurs and professional students, counting on the collaboration of experienced professionals in the fields of fashion and design.

The Fashion Weeks are the best starting point to expand your knowledge about the fashion world: Scuola Leonardo da Vinci in Milan is able to organize a specific preparation to Fashion Shows in conjunction with the Fashion Weeks. This special program has a duration of two weeks, during which students will learn everything they need to know regarding the Milanese fashion scene, its trends, designers and marketing strategies and will also be able to visit boutiques, showrooms and the newsrooms of fashion and design magazines.

If you are more interested in discovering why Milan is so well known for its fashion and design tradition, why not consider our Italian Fashion and Italian Design courses? These programs are the best guide for those who wish to know more about the history of the Italian fashion and design industry, its birth, formation and heritage, as well as its connections with nowadays productions.

Since Scuola Leonardo da Vinci in Milan is located at the heart of the design production area and shares the campus with well known fashion and design academies, students will have the chance to participate in a long term program to have a first hand design experience.

The Language Preparatory Semester in Design will offer the necessary preparation to those students wishing to attend a Bachelor of Arts degree in design. This long term program is structured as to provide the necessary knowledge of Italian through a long term course in combination with a calendar of graphic and design courses held at NABA, one of our partner fashion and design academies. The program will help the students in deciding the best art programs for their future as well as becoming inspired through the latest trends and techniques in the world of design production.

Furthermore, many foreign students decide every year to enroll in the fashion and design academies of Milan to pursue a career as the new Valentino or Pininfarina.

Scuola Leonardo da Vinci has a wide experience in the organization of preparation courses to enter Fashion and Design academies and provides a complete preparation for those in need of preparing for the entrance test of institutions of fashion and design such as Polimoda, Istituto Carlo Secoli, Istituto Marangoni and many others. The course is organized in order to provide the necessary knowledge of Italian to attend courses at academic level and full time preparation including the necessary subject to pass the entry test of these academies.

If you wish to test your language skills and attend a short term design or fashion course during the summer, Scuola Leonardo da Vinci in Milan in collaboration with NABA is the promoter of a very interesting program having as a focus several subjects linked to the fashion and design industries such as marketing, fashion design, graphic design, interior design or fashion distribution together with Italian language classes.

The fashion and design workshops are organized from June to August and include beginner, elementary and intermediate levels. Scuola Leonardo da Vinci provides Italian language courses to those students interested in learning the basics of the language while having a first hand experience of the educational curricula offered by NABA.

More information about the programs, enrolment, dates and prices are available contacting milan@scuolaleonardo.com or calling at +39 02 83241002 during office hours.

Scuola Leonardo da Vinci is one of the most important Italian language schools for foreign students in Italy and organizes Italian language courses since 1977. It is present in the most beautiful cities in Italy (Florence, Milan, Rome, Siena). Every year the school welcomes thousands students from 60 different countries in the world.