Written by Australian Business

GRAND RAPIDS, MI, September 19, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Auditrax LLC (www.auditrax.com) today announced that it has been named to the 2012 Empact Showcase by Empact, an organization that focuses on making entrepreneurship a viable career option for everyone around the world.

Now in its second year, the Empact Showcase recognized Auditrax and Josh Fuhr as being among the United States' "Top Companies Started by Young Entrepreneurs"

"It's is a great honor to be a part of this showcase, and to recognized for all of the hard work that goes into starting a company." Said Co-Founder Josh Fuhr "It has been an exciting few years for our company and we look forward to continued growth in exciting new market segments in 2013."

The Empact Showcase is a compilation companies in the United States started by entrepreneurs who are age 30 and under, and whose annual revenues or operating budgets (for non-profits) are more than $100,000. In 2012, the companies comprising the Empact Showcase contributed more than 8,000 jobs to the economy, and controlled $1 billion in revenue.

"The annual Empact Showcase is both a testament to the impact that entrepreneurs are making on our economy, and an inspiration to aspiring entrepreneurs," said Sarah Green, Co-Founder, Empact100. "We are proud of all of the entrepreneurs on the 2012 Empact Showcase and pleased to support them by celebrating the spirit, dedication and hard work that has made them successful entrepreneurs."

About the Empact Showcase

In early 2012, entrepreneurs meeting the minimum criteria from across the country were invited by Empact to apply for the Empact Showcase. The list was judged primarily by revenue, with additional factors such as number of employees, social impact, growth over the past year, and innovativeness coming into play. The official 2012 Empact100 list of the top companies within the Empact Showcase is the determined by the Empact100 Academy who reviewed the entrepreneurs' responses.
