

ATLANTA, GA, September 19, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Advantage Church Chairs is excited to announce the bulk supply of closeout that they have in stock. When the provider receives inventory that has been damaged, they automatically place these products in to the closeout section. This does not mean that there is anything structurally wrong with the chairs by any means, as even a small blemish or surface scuff qualifies for this categorization. This is a huge benefit for customers, however, as the company sells this inventory at a much lower price.

Closeout Inventory Costs Much Less and Looks Just as Good

If you don't need to have brand-new stock, are just starting out or simply have a limited budget, this is the way to go. As long as your members have a place to sit and are safe and comfortable, there is little reason to look elsewhere. The church chairs provider Advantage Church Chairs notes that they recently acquired a large selection of new closeout inventory and now have multiple styles, designs and colors available. Most importantly, they are all priced to sell right now!

According to Matthew Washabaugh, President of Advantage Church Chairs, "We urge anyone with a need for bulk folding chairs to get in touch right away. Since they look and function virtually the same as new stock, our closeout inventory rarely lasts long. The most recent arrivals are in near-mint condition and listed at super low prices."
