

NORCROSS, GA, September 19, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- School furniture gets a lot of use throughout the school year. Sometimes, it is not even put away during the summer break because of summer sessions and special activities throughout the break. Poorly constructed chairs are not only uncomfortable, they are sometimes unsafe, and ultimately, they end up costing the customer more money.

Classroom Essentials is a company that has supplied school furniture, as well as church chairs, folding tables and banquet tables throughout Georgia for 28 years. They understand their products have to withstand many years of use and are proud to offer their new Advantage series of school furniture that is designed and built to do just that.

Matthew Washabaugh, President of Classroom Essentials Online, was asked about the company's formula for success. This is what he had to say: "We combine top-quality merchandise with a competitive pricing scheme and top it all with attentive and consistently excellent customer care. This is what has kept us in business for almost 30 years. And no doubt, this is what will keep us in business for another 30 more. We look forward to serving a new generation of Georgia residents."

Aside from high-quality school furniture, Classroom Essentials also carry a variety of daycare, preschool, and church furniture . For 28 years, they have been seating Georgia comfortably and affordably. They are proud to continue this tradition of excellence with their new Advantage series school furniture.
