

SUNNY ISLES BEACH, FL, September 20, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Eduboard.com, one of the most reliable and effective online tutoring service providers and the TopTenREVIEWS Gold Award winner of 2013, today announced the availability of a new improved tutoring platform equipped with a shared whiteboard, text and voice chat tools. Eduboard is the leading tutoring marketplace that allows students of all ages and grade levels to connect to expert tutors from all over the world.

Started in 2012, the service has grown up to include over 500 professional tutors who provide 24/7 help in 32 different subjects including but not limited to math, science, social studies, languages and test prep programs.

Introducing 3 new tutoring options

The new system also features a much more flexible range of tutoring options. Thus, as of today, students can choose between three different options.

Online session in a virtual classroom. The easiest way to get professional help is to schedule a tutoring session with one of Eduboard tutors. All sessions take place in an interactive virtual classroom equipped with the state-of-the-art tutoring technology.

Just answer. A very convenient Q&A board that makes it possible for students to ask their questions and receive detailed answers using text-based chat or attachments.

Video tutorial. The most intriguing tutoring option at Eduboard is called Video tutorials. Homework problems and test prep questions can now be addressed in the form of a video answer created by an expert tutor.

1 Short Form for All Types of Orders

Seeking to make the tutor search process easy and quick, Eduboard team introduced one common order form for all types of orders. A student can fill out the order form and then choose among the tutors who applied based on their qualifications, price and tutoring options they provide.

When presenting the new system Eduboard CEO John Smith said: "Today Eduboard services are easily available to students all over the world. Tutoring solutions that Eduboard offers are flexible, comprehensive and affordable. Eduboard provides fast and effective way for tutors and students to connect. And our in-house Whiteboard with its innovative tools allows to enjoy quality assistance anytime, anywhere without limits."

Students today experience great pressure to perform well at school. New tests appear every year and graduation requirements are getting tougher. To stay competitive and achieve success, students need to leverage all available resources including online tutoring help. The Eduboard educational platform is designed to help optimize students academic experiences and facilitate their learning process.
