

Punch TV Network Opens Sound Stage for Jewish Holiday

Written by Australian Business

LOS ANGELES, CA, September 21, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The Chai Center is a non-profit organization which hosts dinners, holiday celebrations, classes in Jewish theology, and brilliant lectures for the Los Angeles community. They are humbly open to all ages, races, and backgrounds, and offer activities for a range of intellectual participants.

Rosh Hashanah (directly translated as "head of the year"), also known as the Jewish New Year, takes place on the first two days of Tishrei, the seventh month on the Hebrew calendar. In the Jewish oral tradition, Rosh Hashanah marks the completion of the creation of the world, and is the only Jewish holiday observed for two days by the whole of the Jewish community. Special prayer books, called mahzors, were distributed for the service, allowing for a "spiritual wake-up call". This year, The Chai Center and the rest of the Jewish community around the world observed Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Commonly referred to as the "holiest holiday of the Jewish year," Yom Kippur is a day of atonement in which Jews reflect on the past year and ask for forgiveness for their sins. It marks the end of the Ten Days of Awe that begin during Rosh Hashanah, and includes a twenty-four hour fast that prohibits all food and drink.

CEO of Punch TV Network, Joseph Collins issued a statement expressing the company's "happiness to host The Chai Center and the Jewish community. We appreciate The Chai Center's venue selection for such important religious events. Just as with The Chai Center, the network will continue to open its doors in order to build crucial relationships that contribute to the betterment of our local communities. Punch TV genuinely embraces diversity and hopes to become a warming hearth by which the already thriving community can be supported. As Punch TV considers being a publicly traded company we look forward to embracing the communities of American, in an effort to help our fellow man." Feel free to visit <http://www.PunchTVNetwork.com> or call (323) 965-PUNCH.