Every soul has a Story. And accessing it, whether by yourself or with a reader like me, is quite possibly the most amazing and powerful tool you can use to create a happy, peaceful life. Think of your Soul Story as The Book of You - a multi-dimensional biography that holds your entire history of experience - and contains all the ways you use energy through your thoughts, emotions and actions. Sounds pretty fascinating, right? Well, it gets even better! Your Soul Story also contains information on not just your past but your present and possible futures too. Just imagine how all this information can help you align with whatever will help you shine your brightest light and live your happiest life.
