

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, September 26, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Tablet2Cases, the internet's definitive resource on tablet cases, announces the availability of quality rugged cases from independently-owned, California-based at its online shop. T2C has Pelican Products cases available for Apple iPads, iPad Mini and similarly-sized devices.

The Pelican 1055CC HardBack Rugged Case is designed for use with the iPad Mini or most any 7"-8" sized tablet. This case is noted for its lightweight polycarbonate exterior construction, the same material Pelican employs in its protective products subcontracted by the US military. The pressure-sealed latches help further defend the tablet against extreme drops and variable weather conditions, while an automatic purge valve keeps invasive elements away from the device while maintaining a steady interior pressure.

The Pelican 1065CC is a larger version of this tablet case comprised of the same material and is designed for all Apple iPad models and like-sized 9" tablets. Both the 1055CC and 1065CC models are promised to be water-resistant and guaranteed to withstand damage if submerged in depth of up to one meter for 30 minutes.

Tablet2Cases' own in-house case reviews awarded both the Pelican 1055CC and 1065CC a mark of 4.1 of a possible 5.0, including perfect scores in protection for their shock-absorbent, impact-resistant exteriors and in quality for their outstanding durability. Would-be purchasers of the Pelican 1065CC HardBack Rugged Case may note that this model's price has been marked down to under $80, putting the case in line with similar highly defensive accessories.

Tablet2Cases invites all tablet owners to check out Pelican Products and numerous other high-quality protective rugged cases at its online shop.
