

Dentist In Fresno, CA Improves Patients' First Time Visits

Written by Australian Business

FRESNO, CA, September 26, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Leading dentist in Fresno, CA, Dr. Curt Posey, has added a new, convenient feature to his practice website - downloadable new patient registration forms. The new patient forms can now be completed prior to the first visit in order to streamline paperwork, and ensure ample amounts of appointment time for the patient and dentist.

With the addition of the new patient forms, patients are able download, print and fill out required paperwork before they visit Dr. Posey, Fresno, CA dentist, for their initial appointment. The forms allow patients to gain valuable one-on-one time with Dr. Posey and his team of dental professionals for procedures and treatments including sedation dentistry, dental implants and root canal treatment in Fresno, among other services.

"It is important for our patients to be fully prepared for their first visits to our office. By allowing patients to download and fill out the paperwork before hand, our staff is able to dedicate more one-on-one time with our patients to allow for the best possible care. It is our duty as dentists to provide the best in quality care and that includes preparing new patients for an easy and comfortable dental experience," says Dr. Curt Posey, a dentist in Fresno.

A patient's first visit to Dr. Curt Posey's dental office establishes a vital foundation for their relationship with his staff and himself. During the first visit, the experienced staff will obtain important background information, such as medical history. The initial visit will allow patients to get to know Dr. Curt Posey, Fresno dentist, and his team of dental professionals.

In correspondence with the new patient forms, the practice's website offers various pages to learn more about Dr. Curt Posey, services offered, new patient forms, patient education and appointment requesting. Patients can simply visit the practice's website at <http://drposeydds.com> to access or learn more about the various procedures available.

Whether patients are searching for whiter teeth, dental implants, veneers, or other services, they turn to Dr. Curt Posey and his staff for quality care they can trust. The new online patient forms are further proof of their commitment to providing patients with convenient and easily accessible care.
