

Business Enterprise Institute Begins Blog To Discuss All Areas Of Exit Planning

Written by Australian Business

DENVER, CO, September 26, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Business Enterprise Institute, Inc. (BEI) announced today that it has formed an online blog to advise in Exit Planning, a topic that is fast becoming popular among baby boomer business owners who are beginning to think about the future of their businesses. BEI's blog will enhance the Exit Planning education process for many business advisors currently looking to plan for their clients' businesses and significantly increase their clients' business value.

Fletcher Brown, President of BEI said, "Social Media is gaining ground. BEI is looking to be wherever business owner advisors need us to be. Our blog is a great way for business advisors to learn about BEI's extensive Advisor Network, Exit Planning tools, Education and Marketing Support. BEI created these tools and resources to drive new opportunities to business advisors, but also to assist business owners with increasing business value and making successful transitions."

"We want to educate advisors on a comprehensive approach to creating successful Exit Plans ," John Brown, BEI Founder and CEO. "We are very pleased to have perfected another avenue to assist business owners, through their advisors, with the development of an Exit Plan that prioritizes the owner's needs, while building business value."

Brown can also be heard on BEI's YouTube channel as he discusses Exit Planning in depth.
<https://www.youtube.com/user/ExitPlanningExperts>

To reach the BEI blog, visit <http://exitplanningprofessionals.blogspot.com/>

Exit Planning Institute Contact: Patrick Zachwieja, Marketing Director, pzachwieja@exitplanning.com For more information on BEI, visit <http://www.exitplanningforadvisors.com>

Business Enterprise Institute trains and supports business advisors, instructing them on how to become the preeminent Exit Planning resource to business owners in their communities. BEI is the only single source provider of Exit Planning education, marketing support, and plan design for business owner advisors. BEI provides its Members with an established, systemized process that allows advisors to easily manage and help their business owner clients achieve their Exit Objectives. BEI provides the marketing tools, support services, Exit Plan creation software and training to help professionals in a variety of disciplines (accounting, law, business consulting , valuation, banking , insurance and financial planning) leverage Exit Planning to attract and retain high-caliber business owners in their practices.

Business Enterprise Institute Begins Blog To Discuss All Areas Of Exit Planning

Written by Australian Business