

ST. LOUIS, MO, September 26, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Computime, the trusted source for sales and channel distribution, has announced the next presentation in its 'Beyond Brands' Webinar Series intended to introduce customers and prospects to its new product lines and vendors.

This upcoming webinar will familiarize companies with the benefits that multi-touch displays and applications can provide. "Smart phones and similar devices have redefined the way we interact with technology and have created a new set of consumer expectations," said Computime CEO Joshua Levey. "This has opened up opportunities to use touch in new and exciting ways."

Join us, September 26th at 1:00 PM CST as Computime CEO, Joshua Levey, hosts "TRu Multi-Touch Monitors - Redefining the User Experience through Projected Capacitive Technology". Our special guest presenter will be Gene Halsey who has worked on the design and manufacturing of embedded touch displays, touch sub-systems, and touch monitors since 1998.

This informational webinar will help you understand Projected Capacitive (PCap) technology, how end users, system integrators, and content providers are using it, and will provide an overview of the TRu Multi-Touch Monitor product line.

In addition to that it will also get you thinking about:- The possibilities of multi-touch- How PCap enables new capabilities- Plus ways it solves problems you might not even know you had This webinar will last 45 minutes and conclude with a Q&A session.

• What: "TRu Multi-Touch Monitors - Redefining the User Experience through Projected Capacitive Technology" • When: September 26, 2013 at 1:00p.m. CST • Price: Free • How to Register: <https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/5910227196173001217>

"As application development accelerates, more companies are making the switch to multi-touch for a more engaging, intuitive user experience," said Levey. "If you are considering how you will meet the growing demand for multi-touch, this webinar is for you." Through the remainder of 2013, Computime will continue with their 'Beyond Brands' webinar series. Dates for upcoming events will be listed on <http://www.computimeonline.com>

Written by Australian Business

For additional information contact: Harriet Schneider Marketing Manager 2055 Walton Road St. Louis, MO 63114 800.423.8826

About Computime Headquartered in St. Louis, MO, Computime provides a wide range of services, including high-tech sales and consultation, distribution, logistics, asset management, post-sales support, and marketing services. Their growth and profitability are a reward of customer service levels meant to set the highest expectations. Computime serves and manages the largest and most diverse distribution channel of resellers, end users and distributors worldwide. Visit their website at <http://www.computimeonline.com>