

Kathy Kampa's "Skeleton Dance" is one of the many songs on her new album that students LOVE to move to!

TOKYO, JAPAN, September 26, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- With young children, every happy occasion is worth singing and dancing about! Perhaps a child is having a birthday, or has lost a baby tooth. Halloween arrives, followed by Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day, and Easter. The year is filled with wonderful opportunities to celebrate with your children, in the classroom and at home. All you need is a song!

This is what teachers and parents of young children have been waiting for -- a collection of original "special day" songs and holiday songs inspired and created in the classroom! Kathy Kampa's Special Days and Holidays is truly a treasure of songs to move to throughout the year. International teacher, author, and songwriter Kathy Kampa has taught English, music, and movement to young learners for over 25 years. These 15 songs are among her favorites -- the songs her students ask to sing and dance to again and again.

Selections include two "special day" songs -- one for birthdays, and another for children who are losing their baby teeth! Holiday songs include one to celebrate the New Year, one for Valentine's Day, two for Easter, five for Halloween, one delightful dance for Thanksgiving, and two for Christmas. Kathy also celebrates a popular holiday known as "Girl's Day" in Japan. Whatever the occasion, this exciting new CD has everything you need to sing, dance, and giggle with your young learners throughout the year.

In addition, these songs build English language skills in many ways. The repetition in the lyrics, the catchy melodies, and the opportunities for children to dance all work together to create a joyful learning experience.
