

Matrox Graphics Appoints Crambo Visuales as Distributor in Spain

Written by Australian Business

MONTREAL, CANADA, September 27, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Matrox Graphics Inc. today announced a distribution agreement that adds Matrox Mura video wall controller boards, Matrox Avio KVM extenders, Matrox DualHead2Go and TripleHead2Go multi-monitor adapters and Matrox Maevox video over IP encoders/decoders to the Crambo Visuales product line-up.

Matrox Mura MPX Series video wall controller boards let users configure high performance video walls with off-the-shelf components and control them with user-friendly software. Matrox Avio F125 KVM extenders separate dual-HD video, keyboard, mouse, stereo analog audio and USB 2.0 devices from a workstation by up to 2.5 miles over a single fiber-optic cable. DualHead2Go and TripleHead2Go external multi-monitor adapters connect up to two and three additional monitors, respectively, to Mac and PC notebooks and workstations. Matrox Maevox 5100 Series video over IP encoders and decoders extend Full HD 1080p60 video over standard IP networks, with minimal bandwidth consumption, at a fraction of the cost of competing products.

"As one of Spain's leading AV distributors, Crambo Visuales is now in the unique position of being a one-stop shop for AV integrators and resellers looking for complete video wall control solutions," said Cecilia Wills, country manager, Matrox Graphics. "They will strengthen our presence in the region by offering the complete Matrox Graphics portfolio."

"Matrox Graphics is a key strategic partner in bringing yet more innovative, quality products to AV professionals in Spain," said Cesar García Manchado, business manager, Crambo Visuales. "The Matrox line is a natural complement to our current product offerings including our large format displays."
