

New Legal Resource for Korean Community in Los Angeles

Written by Australian Business

LOS ANGELES, CA, September 27, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The Law offices of Glotzer and Sweat LLP, a nationally recognized civil and criminal litigation firm based in Los Angeles, CA has launched a new resource specifically for the Korean community in and around Los Angeles. The site is designed to address the legal needs for all Korean Americans living in the Southern California region.

Los Angeles, Orange County and the Inland Empire have more persons of Korean descent living in the area than any other geographic region in the world other than Korea itself. In fact, it is estimated that the number of Koreans in Southern California is between 500,000 to 600,000 in total. Glotzer and Sweat LLP thinks that this population of great citizens is in need of a fantastic resource to turn to when they have any legal issue including personal injury claims and defense of criminal charges.

Glotzer and Sweat LLP has represented many of these persons in the past 17 years and wanted to establish a website where Koreans can go to obtain good information about their legal rights. We hope to grow this as a continuing resource for the Korean community.

Glotzer and Sweat LLP is a personal injury and criminal defense law firm with offices in Los Angeles (Koreatown), Orange County, West Covina, Ontario / Rancho Cucamonga, Glendale, Palmdale / Lancaster, and San Diego. Founding partner, Steven M. Sweat has been nominated a personal injury "Super Lawyer" by Thomson Reuters News Service and Los Angeles magazine. He, along with his partner, Joshua Glotzer and affiliate counsel, Fred Hoon Jung have been representing the Korean community in Los Angeles for over 17 years.
