MESA, AZ, September 28, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The alternative cancer treatment center "An Oasis of Healing" has expanded to include Dr. Jonathan Murphy, MD. Dr. Murphy specializes in integrative oncology, an approach to cancer treatment that takes into account the patient's mind, body and spirit instead of just the tumor. He is a licensed member of the American Board of Holistic Medicine, the American Board of Pediatrics and the American Board of Internal Medicine.

His early experiences and research with allopathic oncology lead him to search for more effective and safer methods for treating and for healing cancer patients. Since then he has concentrated his attention on integrative medicine and integrative oncology. He relocated to Arizona in order to pursue an integrative oncology practice. "There is a cause for every problem and my passion is finding the combination of therapies to help patients thrive with cancer," Dr. Murphy said.

An Oasis of Healing, located in Mesa, Arizona, was founded by Dr. Thomas Lodi in 2005. The center focuses on employing an integrative approach utilizing Insulin Potentiation Therapy with natural therapies such as intravenous Vitamin C and Sodium Selenite along with oxidative therapies like Ozone, Hydrogen Peroxide IV and Ultraviolet Blood Irradiation to help patients heal from cancer including patients with Stage 4 cancer. An Oasis of Healing treats a variety of cancers, including breast cancer, colon cancer, pancreatic cancer, lung cancer, skin cancer, prostate cancer, ovarian cancer, leukemia, lymphoma and many others.

Doctors at An Oasis of Healing also incorporate internal cleansings, organ detoxification, lymphatic drainage, exercise and stress reduction into each patient's treatment plan.

One of the major goals in the program is to teach patients how to support their own body so that it will not continue to make cancer. An important component of this aspect is the highly nutritional diet with juicing along with body cleansing and rebalancing. Dr Lodi knows that another important component is that the way to heal from cancer is through a strong immune system. The programs designed at An Oasis of Healing aim to both eliminate cancer cells and change the biochemistry of the body so that cancer cannot continue to grow.

"Getting rid of cancer is often not difficult, keeping it gone is the struggle," Dr. Lodi said.
