

Newport Beach Law Firm Helps Parents Protect Their Kids

Written by Australian Business

NEWPORT BEACH, CA, September 28, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- It's incredible to believe, but 69% of parents don't have a Will and even those who do still risk their children being taken from their home, at least temporarily, if they are injured or die. Think about it. If your children are at home with a babysitter or at school and you are in an accident and can't communicate, the police have no choice but to call in child protective services until they can figure out what to do. That can mean temporary foster care.

When lawyer and mom Darlynn Morgan, discovered that kids would be taken into the foster care system if their parents were injured or died even though they had a Will, she realized that traditional "estate planning" does not adequately protect our young children.

According to Morgan, "Parents spend time agonizing over who they will leave their kids with when they go to work or when they go out on a Friday night, and yet the majority don't even have a Will; even those who do still risk their kids ending up at the mercy of the foster care system if they are injured or die."

Newport Beach Estate Planning Lawyer Darlynn Morgan is offering Orange County parents two free workshops that teach parents "9 Easy Steps To Make Sure Your Kids Are Protected No Matter What" so that every parent can have the peace of mind of knowing their children would never be at the mercy of our broken State Court system. These informative and entertaining workshops will be held on Saturday, October 5th at My Gym in Rancho Santa Margarita at 4:00pm and on Saturday, October 19th at My Gym in Laguna Niguel at 3:30pm.

Register by calling Ms. Morgan's office at 949.260.1400. Internet registration is also available by visiting <http://www.kidsprotectionworkshop.com>.
