

Dentist In Las Cruces Offers Partial And Complete Dentures For Smile Restoration

Written by Australian Business

LAS CRUCES, NM, September 29, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Many talented dentists offer dentures, but few have the experience of veteran Dr. Harvey Reiter. With over thirty years of dentistry experience, Dr. Reiter is a highly qualified option for patients in need of dentures.

"My personal system is well-established," said Dr. Reiter. "I know my craft inside and out and have continued to advance my training after all these years. Patients can be certain they are getting quality dental work in a relaxed environment."

Toothless smiles do more than affect confidence levels. They can cause facial sagging, speech impediments and make it difficult to eat. Dentures are restorative, removable enhancements for people who no longer have teeth or are missing several teeth.

Las Cruces Family Dental crafts each denture to treat the unique smile of the individual. This can mean a full set of pearly whites for those with few or no remaining teeth. Other patients may only need a partial or overdenture, which is a retainer-like denture that fits over existing teeth or implants. Dentures also fill out nearby tissues.

"Dentures are a big deal to patients," said Dr. Reiter. "It isn't the procedure that makes people nervous, because it is quite painless. It's the fact that patients are literally trusting dental professionals to build them an artificial smile. Many people feel nervous about how their dentures will turn out, especially complete dentures."

Due to the visibility and sensitivity of a person's mouth, dental work of any kind is often stressful. Choosing the right professional for the job is crucial. The process of getting dentures takes approximately five visits, depending on the case. Dr. Reiter will need to perform an initial examination, take various bite and jaw impressions, make the molding of the dentures and adjust the molding as needed before finishing and polishing the final mold. Getting comfortable with the shape and limitations of dentures can take some time.

Along with dentures, Dr. Reiter offers a full range of general dentistry services. He is also a specialist in sedation and sleep disorders. Dr. Harvey Reiter is an exceptional choice for patients who need a comprehensive family dentist in Las Cruces.
