

ROCKLIN, CA, September 29, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The process of straightening teeth has become an easier process with advancements in dentistry. No longer do patients have to worry about wearing noticeable, bulky, metal braces to straighten their teeth. With Invisalign in Rocklin, Dr. Netra Dudhbhate of Rocklin Dental Whispers can help patients straighten their teeth with ease and comfort.

"Wearing metal braces can often be associated with childhood, which makes straightening your smile more difficult as an adult or teen," said Dr. Netra Dudhbhate on the topic of Rocklin Invisalign. "With Invisalign, no one will be able to tell that you are wearing your aligners, making them great for adults and teens who want to straighten their teeth without altering their lifestyle. If you are a candidate for Invisalign, you can improve your smile's appearance discreetly while straightening your teeth."

Align Technologies introduced Invisalign to dental care in 1999. It is a series of invisible, clear, plastic aligners that fit comfortably over your teeth, designed to move your teeth gradually into their desired position. Today, Invisalign has become the leading brand of orthodontic appliances, primarily because the aligners are removable and more esthetically pleasing than conventional metal, wire-bracket dental braces.

Dr. Dudhbhate, dentist in Rocklin, will take a set of impressions and photographs of a patient's teeth during his or her initial consultation. The impressions are used to create a three-dimensional computer image of how the teeth can gradually move. This will help in the development of a series of custom-made aligners designed to accomplish the gradual shift in a patient's teeth.

Manufactured at the Align Technologies dental laboratory using computer-aided design processes, Invisalign aligners are custom made to meet each patient's individual needs. Dr. Netra Dudhbhate, Rocklin dentist, will dispense patients' aligners in groups of one or two at a time during regular check-ups at Rocklin Dental Whispers, so that the treatment process is properly managed.

"Each aligner should be worn for the specific amount of time indicated by your dentist and must be worn for about two weeks. During this time period, your teeth will move in small increments of about .25 millimeters to .33 millimeters. Treatment time will depend on the specific alignment problem you may have," said Dr. Dudhbhate about Invisalign at Rocklin Dental Whispers.
