ATLANTA, GA, September 30, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- A Legendary Event, one of the leading caterers in Atlanta, is proud to be the recipient of nine awards from the National Association for Catering and Events (NACE). Although they are known for their wedding catering in Atlanta as well as their catering of all types of private and corporate events, they are a full-service special event design company with experts in interior and floral design who know how to make any event space unique and every event memorable.

NACE Awards

A Legendary Event has won awards for Best Catered Off-Premise Event of the Year and Best Guest Table Presentation of the Year three years in a row. They have also won a NACE award for Best Event Production of the Year.

National Association for Catering and Events

NACE is the oldest, largest catering association in the world. Its mission is to "advance the catering and events industry and its professionals." The association does this by providing its members with educational programs, professional certification, and recognition and awards programs.

Tony Conway, CEO and Founder of A Legendary Event, says, "We appreciate everything that NACE does to further the catering and events industry, and are extremely honored to have been chosen from among event professionals around the country for these awards. We hope there will be many more to come."
