

Aya Healthcare Re-Releases The Original Travel Nursing Reality Show

Written by Australian Business

SAN DIEGO, CA, October 01, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Aya Healthcare is re-releasing the original travel nursing reality show "13 Weeks". The docu-series chronicles the lives of six travel nurses on an assignment in Orange County, California.

Travel nurses are highly skilled healthcare professionals who travel the country working in hospitals typically for thirteen weeks at a time.

Filming for the show took place in four Orange Country hospitals and throughout Southern California. Each episode showcases the meaningful and important work that nurses perform every day. Episodes also document travel nurses exploring Southern California on their days off.

The travel nursing reality show was released as part of an effort by Aya Healthcare to highlight nursing as a rewarding career and encourage more people to enter the profession. The show won the Media Award from the American Academy of Nursing.

Web episodes can be viewed at www.nursetv.com/show

About Aya Healthcare:

Aya Healthcare is a leading provider of travel nursing, servicing over 2,000 healthcare facilities across the United States. A travel nursing assignment with Aya Healthcare allows nurses to explore the country, build new skillsets and expand their resumes. Aya Healthcare provides its travel nurses with free furnished housing, relocation assistance, health insurance, a 401(k) plan and other corporate style benefits. Aya Healthcare has earned the Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval for meeting exceptionally high standards of quality. To learn more about travel nursing with Aya Healthcare visit www.ayatravelnursingjobs.com