David Caporiccio of Toronto said of the program and his participation in it:

"I was very lucky that, early in my own career, several older professionals were kind enough to take time out of their busy professional lives to help me find my footing as a budding professional. I really and truly believe that I would not be who I am today if it were not for those wonderful people and the time they took to work with me. This is why I have committed myself to mentoring young people in the community, because I hope that I, too, will be able to positively influence someone who needs that extra help."

When asked about what he hope for the coming year, David Caporiccio of Toronto was quick to admit that he hoped to be able to personally contribute to the expansion of the mentorship program, saying:
