

All-Natural Pet Product Aims for Walmart

Written by Australian Business

CHICAGO, IL, October 01, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Buddy Rhodes Presents, the tiny NYC-based pet product company, is aiming to get its first product -- the all-natural pet de-skunker, De-Skunkin' Jubilee -- into Wal-Mart stores.

The company was started when the owner of Buddy Rhodes found his dog -- named Buddy Rhodes himself, the inspiration for the company's name -- on a cold winter night almost 8 years ago. And he had no idea Buddy was a genius inventor.

After Buddy the dog was sprayed by a skunk one night, his owner realized there were no safe options to get rid of the skunk smell. So Buddy worked very closely with his owner to create an all-natural solution: DeSkunkin' Jubilee.

First the product was being sold solely online, soon it made its way into stores, now the product has a chance to get into Walmart. And it would be the only all-natural product of its kind on Walmart's shelves!

With Wal-Mart's "Get on the Shelf" contest, you can make it happen, sending a message to Wal-Mart that your pets' health is important. You buy the best foods to put in your dog, now you can buy the best stuff to put on your dog -- watch the funny intro video & click VOTE:
