

Infiniti HR Announces New Corporate Perks Program for Clients and Employees

Written by Australian Business

BURTONSVILLE, MD, October 01, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Infiniti HR, a rapidly growing and customer-focused PEO, announces a new corporate perks program for its clients and more than 20,000 co-employees across the nation.

This exciting new opportunity allows members of the Infiniti HR network to take advantage of exclusive corporate offers available by top merchants and on the things we love to do most.

The most popular ways employees are saving through Infiniti HR corporate perks include: employee only pricing on computers, savings of up to 90% on local restaurants and considerable saving on flights, hotels, cruises, and car rentals.

By leveraging the purchasing power of the Infiniti HR network, users can save on almost everything they want to buy while also earning points for every dollar spent to get even more stuff for free.

"At Infiniti HR, we want to help our clients attract and retain top talent while providing a rewarding atmosphere at work," Scott Smrkovski, president and chief executive officer of Infiniti HR said. "We feel strongly that every employee should have access to high-quality employee perks."

There are no costs to participate and each individual in the Infiniti HR network will receive a unique login to access <https://infinitihr.corporateperks.com>.
