

Stork Nest Reminds Us to Buy Bulk Disposable Diapers to Save Money

Written by Australian Business

ATLANTA, GA, October 01, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- When you have a new baby, one of the few certainties is that you are going to be buying diapers and for a few years. Therefore, it only makes sense to purchase them in bulk. Online diaper retailer Stork Nest sells its products in large-quantity packaging. Their products are packaged in quantities up to 300. Not only is that a money and time saver, but it means less packaging to be thrown away or recycled.

Premium Brands of Diapers and Pants

Stork Nest features such premium brands of disposable diapers and training pants as Fisher-Price and Fitti at reasonable prices. It also sells SleepWell youth pants, which are absorbent overnight underpants for pre-school and school-age children that help protect bedding from nighttime accidents. The online retailer will soon offer its own eco-friendly called EcoBundles.

Because they are packaged and sold in bulk, disposable diapers and training pants from Stork Nest are not only a bargain, but also a convenience for busy parents. It is easy and affordable to stay stocked up. The people at Stork Nest know that parents of infants and young children have more than enough to do without having to drive to the store to buy Fitti diapers when they run out. By using Stork Nest, the diapers come to them, with no shipping charges.

Compare Costs with the Price Calculator

If you would like to know just how low your per-item price is, go to the Price Calculator on the Stork Nest website. Just select the brand, size, and product. The calculator will tell you exactly how much you are paying per diaper. That way you can compare prices against those of your local store or other website.

Many people think that they save money by using coupons at their local grocery or drug store. However, if you do the math, you will probably find that Stork Nest's diapers still work out to a lower per-item cost, and you don't have to fuss with coupons.
