

JONESBORO, AR, October 1, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Veryl D. Hodges, Physician of Clopton Clinic, has been named a Worldwide Who's Who Professional of the Year in Osteopathic Medicine. While inclusion in Worldwide Who's Who is an honor, only a small selection of members in each discipline are chosen for this distinction. These special honorees are distinguished based on their professional accomplishments, academic achievements, leadership abilities, years of service, and the credentials they have provided in association with their Worldwide Who's Who membership.

Dr. Hodges has 20 years of health care experience, with 11 years as a physician of Clopton Clinic. He prides himself on taking excellent care of his patients, and he attributes his success to treating his patients the way that he would want to be treated. He became involved in his profession because he was always interested in medicine.

Dr. Hodges received a Doctor of Osteopathy from the Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine. To remain connected with other medical professionals, he became a member of the Arkansas State Medical Board, and he is a former president of the Arkansas Osteopathic Medical Association. He is also a trustee of the Arkansas Osteopathic Association, a fellow of the American College of Osteopathic Internists, and a member of the American Osteopathic Association. In recognition of his talent and dedication, he was named Physician of the Year in the state of Arkansas. In his spare time, Dr. Hodges enjoys playing softball, taking flying lessons, and fishing. In years to come, Dr. Hodges hopes for the continued growth of his practice.
