

Ramsey Investment Partners' to launch Dynamic Allocation Fund

Written by Australian Business

HONG KONG, October 01, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The Fund is a risk-managed, global opportunities fund designed to help investors build wealth by seeking long-term capital appreciation, dynamic diversification across multiple asset classes, and the flexibility to reduce exposure during periods of extreme market disruption.

Ramsey Investment Partners' Dynamic Allocation Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in underlying exchange traded funds (ETFs) as well as derivatives to access a more diversified set of asset classes, including global equities and fixed income, credit, emerging markets and commodities.

Ramsey Investment Partners' Risk Management Director, Mr. Peter Tang said: "We developed the Fund as a flexible and diversified investment alternative to address investors' concerns in these increasingly volatile markets. Although traditionally diversified portfolios are a good start, we believe there is additional opportunity in today's markets to manage portfolio volatility and enhance returns. Dynamic allocation is the next step in building better, more efficient portfolios that can help investors meet their goals".

The Fund provides a multifaceted investment strategy which is less constrained than most funds. The Fund can access a highly diversified set of asset classes from which it can generate return potential.

Designed to be an attractive addition to many different types of investment portfolios, the Fund can offer risk and capital diversification for portfolios heavily concentrated in equities with high risk profiles; attractive return potential for portfolios heavily concentrated in fixed income with low return profiles; and dynamic risk management for balanced portfolios that, while diversified, may have volatile risk outcomes. Ultimately, Ramsey Investment Partners' believes the addition of the Fund to an existing portfolio can potentially reduce risk and enhance returns of the overall portfolio.

Ramsey Investment Partners' Investment Advisors are well-seasoned industry professionals with the operational experience needed to structure and manage effective strategies allowing you to efficiently achieve your investment goals. Our Advisors are backed up by our team of specialists who possess the experience and knowledge in the global markets.

When required, our Advisors also work alongside other advisors with Ramsey Investment Partners' Private Wealth Management Division who have the required expertise in estate planning and private banking.

Ramsey Investment Partners' to launch Dynamic Allocation Fund

Written by Australian Business

Ramsey Investment Partners' Private Investment Advice allows you to experience exceptional levels of service since each Advisor has a limited number of client/advisor relationships which ensures that you get the level of attention you deserve. The Advisory Team is committed to our philosophy of bringing this commitment and level of discipline to your offshore investment portfolio