

BRISBANE, AUSTRALIA, October 2, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Campbell J. Mackey, Geophysical Consultant for Mackey Geophysics, has been recognized by Worldwide Who's Who for showing dedication, leadership and excellence in magnetism.

With more than two decades of practiced experience in his field, Mr. Mackey is uniquely positioned to oversee a wide range of tasks on behalf of Mackey Geophysics. During the course of his daily routine, he serves as a geophysical consultant, providing services in the mining, oil and gas, and groundwater industries. Additionally, Mr. Mackey handles survey supervision, and data processing, interpretation and modeling. He has been employed all over the world, in countries such as Australia, Papua New Guinea, Indonesia, Fiji, Ivory Coast, and the United States.

Mackey Geophysics can provide their services, including magnetism and airborne gravity gradiometry, as well as analysis of 2D and 3D seismic. In addition, they also provide 3D inversion services in the areas of magnetism and magnetization vector inversion. Survey design and supervision, along with rig supervision, and contractor and aircraft selection services are also among the plethora of solutions that Mackey Geophysics can provide.

Dedicated to the industry, Mr. Mackey holds a Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Geophysics from Curtin University. He remains affiliated with the field by way of the Society for Exploration Geophysicists, the Australian Institute of Geoscientists, and the Australian Society of Exploration Geophysicists. Looking toward the future, Mr. Mackey plans to engage in company directorships, as well as provide additional consulting services.
