

ATLANTA, GA, October 02, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Peachtree Aviation believes that it can often be more economical to fly a private jet in Atlanta than to fly commercially, especially if you have several people needing transport.

Businesses are more likely to find a private charter more economical than individual members of the public would. When you are flying a team to or from a job site or meeting, it can become expensive to purchase multiple commercial seats, even in coach. Hiring a private Atlanta air charter from Peachtree Aviation can help to reduce the per-person cost on your overall trip.

Charter flights in Atlanta are also economically better in regards to hours spent, which often translates directly to productivity dollars. With none of the security hurdles or extensive wait times of a commercial airport, private flights are able to board and unload in minimal time.

"Flying commercially is often a major time sink, and this can cost you dearly when you have high productivity costs," says James Barber, CEO of Peachtree Aviation. "When you factor in the time you have to waste going through a commercial airport's security lines, the wait for the plane, the extended boarding period, and then the time it takes you to get your luggage after the flight, you end up saving several hours of productivity time per person."

Peachtree Aviation is a private jet charter in Atlanta. The company prides itself on offering its passengers safe, timely, and comfortable flights across the world. Each member of the Peachtree Aviation team is devoted to exceptional customer service. You will notice a distinctly positive difference over commercial airlines.

Learn more about hiring an air charter in Atlanta at <http://www.peachtreeaviation.com>.

About Peachtree Aviation:

Peachtree Aviation serves as your one-stop shop for aviation services. Whether you need a private aircraft charter, aircraft management, consulting or beyond, we have all that you need.

Peachtree Aviation Examines if a Private Jet in Atlanta is More Economical Than Commercial

Written by Australian Business

To learn more, please visit <http://www.peachtreeaviation.com/> .