

LONDON, ENGLAND, October 02, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- After a seven-year hiatus from the music industry Justin Timberlake is well and truly back in the spotlight for 2013 with the release of two studio albums and an acting role alongside Ben Affleck in new film Runner, Runner. Promoting his third and fourth studio albums, The 20/20 Experience and The 20/20 Experience 2 of 2, the star will return to London's O2 arena on Tuesday 1st April 2014 for his first solo show since FutureSex/LoveSounds. Tickets for the concert go on sale at 9am on Friday 4th October, with prices ranging from GBP52 to GBP122.50. Concert goers travelling from outside of the capital can find a great selection of Having released his second studio album FutureSex/LoveSounds back in 2006, Timberlake has now doubled his solo album output with the release of two studio albums in one year. Following on from his performance of the new material at 2013's Brit Awards, The 20/20 Experience went on to become the year's biggest selling album and his third consecutive album to reach the top spot in UK charts. The second half of the two-piece, 2 of 2, which together are collectively known as The Complete Experience, was released on 30th September 2013.

Friday 4th October also sees the release of tickets to Taylor Swift's The Red Tour, coming to the O2 arena on 1st, 2nd and 4th February 2014. The seven-time Grammy award-winner has already completed the North American leg of the tour, where she was joined on stage by the likes of Jennifer Lopez and Ellie Goulding. The star will now head to New Zealand and Australia before bringing the elaborate stage show, which consists of numerous changing sets, dancers and aerialists, to London.
