

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA, October 03, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- DIOTEK, a company known for leading the software market for mobile devices, is excited to announce the release of DioNote, their newest app to the Google Play store. Compatible with all Android devices, this wildly dynamic app allows users to create handwritten memos for their personal use or to share with anyone. DioNote features two memo creating modes that are intricately designed yet simple and easy for anyone to use. The first is "Entry Mode," which allows the user to write handwritten memos with either their finger or a stylist via DIOTEK's Digital Ink feature on a memo layout that resembles a notepad. One of the most revolutionary aspects of DioNote is its Ink Text Editor Technology. This breakthrough technology recognizes the user's handwriting and lets them edit handwritten text by placing the cursor anywhere in the written message, just like in a normal text! The second memo layout is "Canvas Mode." While in this mode, users start out with a blank canvas to let their creativity run wild. Upload a picture, choose your brush type and color, and get to work creating fun and unique messages for anyone and everyone.

Each one of your memos can be saved and shared through the notebook feature of the app. Create notebooks and organize your memos for easy viewing and sharing. Once the notebook is created, choose from various viewing layouts that allow you to see multiple memos on a single page or a single one per page, depending on your need. You can even search for your handwritten memos via DioNote's Ink Search Function! DioNote is compatible with various file sharing software such as Evernote, Google Drive, and Dropbox, making it easy to share your notebooks with others. The user also has the option to press and hold a memo to save it to their Android device's home screen.

DioNote is perfect for pen and stylist based phone users who are constantly handwriting notes on the go. This highly responsive and sharply designed app gives you the power to create and share notes and memos with elegance and ease. DioNote is perfect for those in the business world as both the Entry and Canvas Mode act as a virtual whiteboard you can share with colleagues, all from the convenience of your phone. DioNote is also perfect for play, offering the user the ability to create birthday cards, pieces of art, or quick doodles to share with friends via social media. So don't wait - download this fun and practical memo app and start connecting with the people in your life in a whole new way.
