

NEW YORK, NY, October 04, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- In line with October's National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, fine estate jewelry gallery, OakGem (<http://www.oakgem.com>), has announced their pledge to raise awareness for breast cancer and support research for a cure by donating 2% of its October sales to Susan G. Komen for the Cure. OakGem's donation of their month-long proceeds will be presented to help the organization in funding diagnostic care services for those in need, and providing nurturing support services for those affected. Today, Susan G. Komen is leading the bold community, fueling the best science and making the biggest impact in the fight against breast cancer through ground-breaking research, community health outreach, advocacy and programs in more than 50 countries.

"Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among women in US," states marketing director of OakGem, Ilya Vorobey. "We are excited to be joining hands with Susan G. Komen for the Cure in their inspiring mission to educate people on breast cancer awareness, and research for a cure. Through supporting the foundation, OakGem hopes to give back to the community by joining the fight against breast cancer and aiding in the prevention."

OakGem is an online jewelry retailer that houses some of the finest estate pieces on the market for unbeatable, discounted prices that you won't find anywhere else. The gallery holds a large collection of high end, exclusive, and hard to find jewelry from some of the world's most prominent designers and brands including Tiffany & Co., Gucci, Rolex, Cathy Waterman, Hearts on Fire and many more. Although OakGem maintains its loyal clients who still visit their brick-and-mortar location in Lahaska, Pennsylvania, their largest clientele comes from their website, which has brought them customers from all over the world including countries like Germany, England, China and Australia. The fine estate jewelry retailer has also been featured in countless publications such as Kitten Lounge on the Sugar Network, OK Magazine, Brides.com, and more.

For more information about OakGem, purchases, or to schedule a visit to their gallery visit their website at <http://www.oakgem.com> and follow them on twitter at <https://twitter.com/Oakgem>.
