

Punch TV CEO, Joseph Collins Opens Doors to Elixir New Punch TV Studios to Hollywood

Written by Australian Business

LOS ANGELES, CA, October 05, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Located between the celebrated, infamous cities, of Hollywood and Beverly Hills, that have been the essence of film since birth, Punch TV Studios places its print in Hollywood for all to take notice. Established as one of the newest state of the art facility for television, film and music, Punch TV Studios brings life to the life of Pico Blvd. Opening its doors for innovative, pioneering and inventive individuals and ideas, Punch TV Studios houses all the apparatus required for every and any type of production and producers. With zenith technology ranging from lighting, cameras, green screens, make-up rooms and numerous office space to let ideas flourish, Punch TV Studio invites the young and hungry for media to join the movement that is Punch TV Network.

Punch TV Studios has been the birth of various triumphant productions such as "The Trap Door" starring actor Obba Babatunde and Chico Bennymon as well as, "If I Tell You I Have to kill you", starring Tom Sizemore, Keith David and Tommy "Tiny" Lister. With the new movement that is Punch, Punch TV Studios will further the success and deliver extraordinary productions that will change the television market in ways never seen before!

CEO of Punch TV Network, Joseph Collins states his enthusiasm by stating, "This is an essential, exciting moment for Punch TV! This studio has birthed incredible productions and producers. Being located in the heart of the Entertainment Industry, the location is ideal for any production team and I am incredibly thrilled and look forward to begin the next Chapter of Punch TV by furthering the movement that is Punch TV Network with our new Punch TV Studios."

As Punch TV continues the Punch TV movement with Punch TV Studios, Joseph Collins invites all past employees, supporters and affiliates to celebrate this immense step in Punch TV Network. Doors will open to all that strive to celebrate the success with a night of merriment and festivities! Located at 5907 W Pico Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90035, CEO Joseph Collins and the Punch family hope to see everyone there!

Punch TV is an independent network aiming to become the leading television network and position itself to be the dominant player in the television market by bringing diverse and innovative content to its viewers. With an audience of over 35 million viewers, Punch TV is well on its way to become a leading brand in the Entertainment Industry.

Are you thirsty yet? "I want My Punch TV!"

For more information visit Punchtvnetwork.com