Misery loves company. "Suffer Club" follows the adventures of three little girls as they battle the forces of evil that are bent on destroying their bond and eventually the planet earth.

Three Little Girls And One Angry Lion = Suffering

The show takes place on present day earth and begins when a gang of bikers from future day earth accidentally go through a time warp and end up at a theme park named Lolli World located at St. Kircher's Crossing. The bikers arrive with horrific tales of destruction that lie ahead which has left earth nearly inhabitable and governed by pestilence, fear, and violence. Upon hearing this and in an effort to calm the locals panicked by the bikers tales, a secret pseudo governmental agency named U-Dead steps in. They are charged with ridding the world of evil.

Three girls who work at the theme park are kidnapped and turned into Super heroes. The girls, Scissor, Trigger and Sparkler are not chosen randomly but hold a special bond, working together they can change the future but if the team is broken up then planet earth as it is known today will no longer exist.
