

Colonial Dental Lab In Annapolis Utilizes Social Media Channels To Remain In Contact With Dentists

Written by Australian Business

ANNAPOLIS, MD, October 10, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Ken Etzler of Colonial Dental Lab in Annapolis maintains an up-to-date dental lab in a constantly evolving digital age by joining social networking sites - Facebook and Twitter. Dentists are invited to join Colonial Dental Lab's social media websites for continual interaction with other dentists and the staff at his Annapolis dental lab.

"Social media isn't new anymore, and a lot of dentists and their patients are already connected to various websites. Facebook and Twitter allow us to connect with existing dentists and the surrounding local community. By utilizing these websites we can interact more closely with dentists utilizes our services and share upcoming events and promotions," said Ken Etzler of Colonial Dental Lab in Annapolis, MD.

With the launch of Colonial Dental Lab's Facebook and Twitter, dentists can gain access to an array of information about this Annapolis, MD dental lab while closely interacting with other dentists and members of the staff at Colonial Dental Lab. By joining this dental lab's social network, dentists can access valuable information including ceramic crowns and bridges in Annapolis and how they are created.

In addition, dentists can visit Ken Etzler's website for even more valuable dental health care resources, such as the informative dental blog. The interactive blog provides dentists with an overview of the dental laboratory in Annapolis and the dental lab field. As the dentists further navigate through the website, they will find more information on the lab, its philosophy, staff bios, and an array of other features. Dentists can even access the education library to look up questions they may have on various procedures including Annapolis ceramic crowns and bridges.

When a dentist is looking for an experienced Annapolis dental laboratory, they turn to Ken Etzler of Colonial Dental Lab for quality services they can trust. With the launch of Colonial Dental Lab's new Facebook and Twitter pages, gaining valuable dental services information and making proper educated health decisions is easier than ever before. Ken Etzler welcomes all dentists to Colonial Dental Lab in Annapolis and invites them to join his newly developed social networks by visiting <http://www.colonialcrownandbridges.com/>.

About Colonial Dental Lab: Since 1994, Colonial Dental Lab has been working with dental offices to provide the best services for dentists in the Annapolis area. The staff at Colonial Dental Lab caters to practice's that rely on a dependable and trustworthy lab. Ken Etzler has been a lab technician in Anne Arundel County for over 30 years and has many years of training in dental ceramics and dental implants, having attended courses throughout the country.

Colonial Dental Lab In Annapolis Utilizes Social Media Channels To Remain In Contact With Dentists

Written by Australian Business

Honesty, integrity and communication are all vital parts of his dental lab philosophy and cater to dental practices to offer the best services possible.

Media Contact: Ken Etzler contactus@colonialcrownandbridge.com 993 Hillendale Drive Annapolis, MD 21409 (410) 703-4470
<http://www.colonialcrownandbridges.com>

As seen on: <http://www.epressdistribution.com/news.asp?id=2923>