

Sky Zone "Socks" Cancer For National Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Written by Australian Business

ST. LOUIS, MO, October 12, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Sky Zone St. Louis "socks" cancer to support National Breast Cancer Awareness Month by introducing limited edition pink "SkySocks" to help raise money and awareness for this notable cause. Throughout October, guests can purchase special edition pink "SkySocks" for $2 and Sky Zone will donate 25 percent of the proceeds to Susan G. Komen St. Louis.

Sky Zone's wall-to-wall trampoline courts are designed as a fun outing for all ages, shapes and sizes. The innovative trampoline park offers a variety of activities for everyone to enjoy from Open Jump, allowing guests to leap, bound and soar to their hearts' content, to Ultimate Dodgeball, for those who enjoy a friendly competition. Fitness friends in St. Louis can feel the burn at Sky Zone's original SkyRobics fitness class, which combines advanced calisthenics and a three-dimensional cardio and strength training program that encourages a healthy mixture of fitness and fun. The St. Louis park is the ideal venue for groups seeking unforgettable events such as birthday parties, corporate team building, field trips and much more.

"Sky Zone St. Louis is proud to contribute efforts to support National Breast Cancer Awareness Month and promote active and healthy lifestyles among our local community," said Barclay Poole, VP of Corporate Operations and Program Development for Sky Zone. "Since breast cancer affects so many people, we hope our pink "SkySocks" can raise money and awareness to join a fight that changes many lives."
