

AUSTIN, TX, October 12, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ -- No stranger to brushing shoulders with the stars, in 1982 George performed choral backing vocals at the Frank Erwin Centre for none other than Barry Manilow.

George's life-long career in music began at junior high school with his first band 'Voice 1000'. George progressed through education to gain an Associates Degree in Music at which point he took time out of his musical career to solely care for his 4 year old daughter.

"As a single father my daughter was my priority but now she is 17 and I have 100% support from her to continue with my music."

Recent releases found on ReverbNation and iTunes are showing the popularity of his music and showing he is a force to be reckoned with.

His Facebook Fan Page is increasing in popularity George Aleman Fan Page and already showing his social impact within the social media community and already showing signs of his increased popularity globally.

George Aleman comes from a German and Hispanic background family and is tremendously important to George and is a true source of inspiration for his songs.