

Royal Dynamite Gives Back to Follow My Steps Foundation in Dominican Republic

Written by Australian Business

LOS ANGELES, CA, May 11, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Royal Dynamite, a collaborative and unique t-shirt company that combines popular culture and community, is preparing more than 85 RDCares packages for young students at the Abuela Madre Orphanage located in a town on the outskirts of Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

Royal Dynamite is working with Elinelsys Castillo, founder of Fundacion Sigue Mis Pasos/Follow My Steps Foundation. Follow My Steps is a nonprofit organization, established in order to collect and channel effectively local and international resources to support various social development initiatives for the different communities they support.

"Because Royal Dynamite is donating important school supplies to our students, it's helping to further the education in raising these children to a higher standard for personal and professional development," Castillo said. "Our goal is to continually improve the quality of life of our students. Royal Dynamite is helping by contributing to this initiative as we work to achieve real social integration."

About Royal Dynamite

Royal Dynamite's collaborative, unique fashionable t-shirts combine popular culture, community and social responsibility to create educational awareness. Our main message is collaborative style for awareness; that involves partnerships with businesses, brands and artists to facilitate social change and self-expression through fashion.

Visit Royal Dynamite for the latest in charitable graphic t-shirts. To learn more about how your t-shirt purchase can help provide a child in need with an educational package, email support@royaldynamite.com.

Royal Dynamite's collaborative, unique fashionable t-shirts combine popular culture, community and social responsibility to create educational awareness. Our main message is collaborative style for awareness; that involves partnerships with businesses, brands and artists to facilitate social change and self-expression through fashion.