

New Learning Software Suite Provides Educators Critical Tools for Student Development

Written by Australian Business

CARMEL, IN, May 11, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Students always need a little coaching when it comes to getting organized, managing their time, studying their lessons, and developing personal characteristics that will serve them throughout their lives.

Mobius Learning

of Carmel, Indiana has produced a software suite that addresses all of these issues and is designed for children in grades 5th - 8th called

Linxus

The suite will make its debut at the National Association of Elementary School Principals Conference & Exposition (NAESP) in Nashville, TN on July 10th - 13th, 2014 in booth 327. Armed with iPads and computers, the Mobius Learning Team will be demonstrating the software to perspective schools that are searching for solutions to teach students techniques that help them be successful in their educational pursuits. The suite is certainly designed to address those results.

Linxus

The Linxus software suite is Section 508 compliant and specifically addresses the following topics:

Academic OrganizationChapter 1: Introduction to OrganizationChapter 2: Assignment NotebookChapter 3: HarmonyChapter 4: Organization at SchoolChapter 5: Organization at Home

Time ManagementChapter 1: Introduction to Time ManagementChapter 2: Manage the Time You HaveChapter 3: Time Traps

Study SkillsChapter 1: Goal SettingChapter 2: Note TakingChapter 3: ReadingChapter 4: Study TechniquesChapter 5: Test Taking Strategies

Character DevelopmentChapter 1: Life SkillsChapter 2: Character DevelopmentChapter 3: Bullying and Peer Pressure

The suite is packed full of good information and will be a hit with the students. The interaction,

New Learning Software Suite Provides Educators Critical Tools for Student Development

Written by Australian Business

colorful graphics, animated characters, and use of games will keep the student engaged and interested to find out "what is around the corner". They will discover "treasures" hidden throughout the suite that will keep them coming back to learn more about the subject to achieve the next gamification level.

Administrators and parents will also be pleasantly surprised with the skills the students will learn and retain as a result of the Linxus software. They will also be surprised at the introductory offer Mobius Learning will present at the event, offering the entire suite for $5.00 per student for one full year of access.

Mobius Learning also recognized that traditional Learning Management Systems were not the way to deliver this product, so they developed their own software for delivery and administration. Ease of use and software performance was their criteria and they achieved every aspect of that goal.

If you would like to know more about the Linxus software or Mobius Learning, their contact information is listed below.

Mobius Learning is a developer of software and content for online learning. Our passion is creating products that enhance the student learning experience through the use of technology, gameification, and solid instructional design.

Contact: Ed Cross, Mobius Learning 1-317-564-4695 ed.cross@mobiusering.com www.mobiusering.com