

Lady Lux Luxury Swimwear Receives Media Coverage on Bathing News

Written by Australian Business

NEWPORT BEACH, CA, May 24, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Lady Lux Luxury Swimwear is a swimwear brand that provides women with swimwear that not only aims in high quality but the latest fashion trends as well. Lady Lux swimwear reaches clientele all around the United States and internationally as well. The brand's highest market is on a social media standpoint. Lady Lux has been featured on various well-known magazines such as notable magazines such as OK! Magazine for their 'Go Celebrity This Summer' issue, the Muscle & Fitness Swimsuit Issue, as well as the 'People Style Watch Ultimate Swimsuit Guide'. Lady Lux Swimwear's most recent feature was in a fashion and swimwear blog entitled Bathing News.

Bathing News is a fashion bathing suit blog that features the latest trends in fashionable swimwear. Tala Michelle is the founder of this blog, and she was born and raised in Los Angeles California. In her blog, Tala featured photos of herself wearing the Lady Lux Palm Springs Primmed Monokini in desert scenery. This blog attracts young women who are interested in the latest swimwear fashion and styles.

Christina Hanna is the founder and designer of Lady Lux Swimwear. For years, she has been able to create swimwear that has a luxurious feel with the use of fine embellishments and high-quality fabrics. Her line is known to make a woman feel sexy whether in a two-piece bikini or a conservative one-piece monokini by extenuating a woman's beautiful figure.

It is notable that Lady Lux has received a vast amount of media coverage throughout its years in business. The company's expansion is still underway with the anticipation of the new 2015 collection promising a bright future ahead for the luxury swimwear brand.
