

Written by Australian Business

LANCASTER, CA, June 04, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Attendees at the 2014 National Apartment Association (NAA) Education Conference and Exposition are encouraged to stop by booth #1609 to find out more information about CIC's best-in-class resident screening and integration partnerships. Industry involvement remains a top priority for CIC and among sales and marketing team members

Caryn Bennett

, CIC compliance manager will be on-hand, assisting at the National Credit Reporting Agency (NCRA)'s exhibit, located at booth #457.

CIC will host a 45-minute session, educating property managers on current legislative affairs affecting resident screening, June 19 at 5:15 p.m. in Learning Zone 2. Attendees will learn from two industry-leading experts, Caryn Bennett and Dan Firestone.

Bennett is CIC's compliance manager with more than 20 years of experience in resident screening. She is the chair of the resident screening committees for the NCRA and National Association of Professional Background Screeners (NAPBS). Firestone, is CIC's vice president and director, with more than 25 years of industry experience.

Attendees are also encouraged to download the mobile app to find CIC's exhibit and stay organized with up-to-the-minute conference information. CIC will also be live tweeting before, during, and after the conference from

@CICReports

, using #NAAEduConf.

According to the NAA, this year's keynote sessions will include Michael J. Fox, an Emmy award-winning actor, author, and activist; Barbara Corcoran and Daymond John, entrepreneurs and panel members on ABC's Shark Tank; and Alex Sheen, founder of a charity called 'Because I said I would.' The conference will also include an exciting line-up of motivational Thought Leader speakers and more than 40 breakout sessions covering the hottest industry topics.

The NAA Education Conference and Exposition promotes the sharing of new ideas, learning new skills in the education sessions, getting inspired by world-renowned leaders, and making lasting connections that help enhance businesses and careers. It is the largest event for the multifamily housing industry, where more than 7,000 professionals gather annually.

Written by Australian Business

To learn more about CIC's involvement with the NAA Education Conference & Exposition, visit www.cicreports.com/naa2014

About CIC

Founded in 1986, CIC is a leading nationwide provider of data solutions for Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), property managers, housing authorities, apartment associations, real estate agents and independent rental owners throughout the U.S. For nearly three decades, CIC has leveraged the use of technology to deliver the most reliable and comprehensive information to clients, and continues to do so, today. By delivering quality affordable data solutions to the multifamily housing industry, CIC is proud to provide clients with applicant information they can trust giving them The Power of Decision. For more information about CIC's solutions including resident screening, employment screening, wholesale data, screening platforms and property management tools & software, please visit www.CICReports.com or call 888-316-4242.