

GREAT NECK, NY, August 21, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Moneer K. Hanna, MD, Pediatric Urologist at New York Presbyterian/Weill Cornell Medical Center, has been recognized for showing dedication, leadership and excellence in his pediatric urology.

With 34 years of experience in his field, Dr. Hanna is known nationally and internationally for his expertise in pediatric urology in hypospadias, bladder exstrophy, and reconstruction of the urinary tract. He has well over 100 publications in the field of pediatric urology.

Recently inducted in Worldwide Registry, Dr. Hanna attributes his success to the fact that he loves what he does! He became involved in his profession because he worked in London, England under Sir David Innes-Williams, who is the father of pediatric urology, and subsequently completed a Fellowship in Toronto, Canada, at the Hospital for Sick Children, and became hooked on the specialty.

A true professional, Dr. Hanna is a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England and Edinburgh, American College of Surgeons, American Urological Association, The Society for Pediatric Urology, and the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Recognized for his excellence, Dr. Hanna received the Patients' Choice Award in New York. He was named as the Pediatric Oncologist of the Year 2001 by the National Kidney Foundation. Furthermore, he has been named each year since its inception as a Castle Connolly Top Doctor of New York and received a Congress Award for Surgery on Children from Overseas in 1997.

In the coming years, Dr. Hanna would like to continue treating children with urologic problems.
