parties are surging as the traditional last day of summer barbeque and warm weather party day, Labor Day, approaches. Swinging is the practice of different couples trading partners and having sexual encounters. Swing Lifestyle is a website whose motto is "Start your sexual revolution!". Swingers in every state can just click on a state in order to find a local swinger party in their area. This is not only making it easier for swingers to set up and share their parties, but also get the word out to people who may be interested in swinging.

Online Websites Facilitating Labor Day Parties

Swing Lifestyle is located at Swinglifestyle.com , and it has a seemingly endless list of parties that are available in each state, in this case Florida. The site features a variety of parties leading up to September 1, when this year's Labor Day will fall. They range from Hump Day Meet & Greet to All You Can Drink Secret Thursdays and Transition Friday at Off The Hookah. There are lots of parties that get a head start on the holiday leading up to it, such as the Labor of Lust Customer Appreciation free party on August 30, 2014. There is also a Labor Day Saturday party on the same night, from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. at the Partyhouse and a Labor Day Weekend party for the TBL Sundays at Silks Private Afternoon Delight Party on August 31. Several article websites like the Examiner are writing about the swingers located here:

Social Media Seeing Surge Of Labor Day Celebrations

Swinging is also going social with the lifestyle reaching such largely used social media sites, such as Twitter. A group called Florida Swingers even have their own Twitter handle and are an active participant on the site. @Florida_Swinger regularly posts tweets that refer to a number of things, such as gatherings that people can seek out or free erotic stories, and even articles on various aspects of the psychology and practice of swinging. The account currently has over 3,500 followers and posts helpful articles and links for those who are new to swinging, have been swinging a long time, or are simply interested in what swinging is like and where they can find information and gatherings. It's not only the online official meetups for Labor Day parties that are likely increasing. Many couples will likely be hosting their own private parties as well in celebration of the holiday.
