

NEW YORK, NY, August 23, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Standing out in the fashion and lifestyle blogging market is emerging face, Zarig Baghdadian, of Zarig's World, (<http://zarigsworld.com/>). With a lively presence and a multitude of knowledge in style, culture, art, jewels and more, Zarig has stood out from the pack for her unique ability to combine classic, vintage designer pieces with a youthful, modern energy. The full encompassing blog covers everything from Zarig's daily looks and rare jewelry finds to the high fashion inspiration she picks up and modern musings for every day inspiration. Unlike every other blogger trying to make minimalist chic findings into something of the future, this blog goes beyond simply posting pictures of a daily outfit. Zarig built her blog up to inspire her readers and followers to live a more fashionable and enriched life through graceful styling, natural inspiration and a variety of easy-on-the-eyes visuals.

"I like to think of my blog, Zarig's World, as a place where I can share all my interests. Anyone can say they love fashion and start their own blog, but I cultivate each and every post with the idea that I have a blank canvas that I can express myself on," states lifestyle blogger Zarig Baghdadian. "My blog is a reflection of my love for art, rare jewels and travel as well as fashion. There's an immense connection between my lifestyle and my every day style, and I feel like not enough bloggers showcase this."

Zarig's chic and elegant style ranges from a sophisticated minimalist to bold with a vintage chic touch. Within her distinctive wardrobe, there is always a compliment of eye-catching gems and accessories for a daring appeal. With her unique outlook on styling and showcasing her musings on the streets of New York City, Zarig's blog is a refreshing way to engage in fashion. Readers also benefit from the connection to industry news Zarig provides through various links and videos of awe-inspiring fashion developments. With a current flavorful taste of life, Zarig is blogging for everyone who can use a little inspiration here and there.

For more information on Zarig, feel free to check out her blog at <http://zarigsworld.com/> info@beautifulplanning.com, or call 877.841.7244.

About Zarig's WorldCreated in 2012, Zarig's World <http://zarigsworld.com/> is a unique blog that showcases fashion, travel, art, and rare jewelry. Zarig's love for all things chic, elegant, and unique can be seen in the glamorous life she lives, all while sporting a noteworthy wardrobe. Follow Zarig on Instagram, Twitter, and Facebook to stay updated with all of her latest adventures and fashion statements.