

Epennyauction.com Awards 12 Bids to its Customers for Every Referral

Written by Australian Business

---

LONDON, ENGLAND, August 23, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- It presents a win/win situation for itself and loyal customers; while the site earns by purchasing bids its competing customers can in turn get products for prices which are reduced by as much as half. For instance, someone who is lucky enough can get a SONY VAIO laptop which goes for $ 680 at an unimaginable $ 300.

To participate in an auction, all a customer needs to do is purchase bids, select a product for which they would like to compete and make a bid which takes its current price up by one penny. The winner is the one who bid last before the timer clicked on zero and will get their due irrespective of how far the price at which they won was from reaching the product's regular retail price. However, Epennyauction.com expects that people who purchase from them pay for all shipping costs.

To attract new prospects and keep loyal customers involved, Epennyauction.com recently announced that it will award 12 bids for every successful referral made by any of its customers. This means that by referring 21 friends, a customer can get themselves 260 bids which are the equivalent of $ 999 when purchased using cash. With 260 bids it is possible to participate in an auction for products worth up to $ 2000 and win. In other words, Epennyauction.com is availing its customers a chance to possess the world's most coveted electronic products almost free; those who are interested will just need to spend a little time beckoning friends to try out their luck by participating in the online auction shops venues.

Since its not many people who are familiar with the way auction bid sights work, Epennyauction.com sought to better its customer experience by placing the three step procedure on the websites home page. For a first time visitor and especially those who will get recommendations from their friends, it won't be so much time consuming to figure out how to go about participating in the auctions. Besides, the website has an active help line through which stranded customers can ask for assistance on how to bid or complete other actions required of them for a successful delivery. In that wind, Epennyaction.com now provides the delivery cost below an item among other details.

EPennyAuction.com, #1 Penny Auction Site to bid, win and save up to 90% on all the products including iPad, laptop and smart phones.