

Dr. Bruce H. Levin a Prominent Specialized Doctor on Interventional Pain Management

Written by Australian Business

---

EXTON, PA, August 30, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Dr. Bruce H. Levin is an outstanding healthcare provider who receives the Patient's Choice Award for two years and has three official documents on neuro-stimulation and treatment. Dr. Levin has been demonstrating excellence and confidence in his field of practice.

Dr. Levin, a graduate of the esteemed Albert Einstein College of Medicine class 1984. He did his trainings at Stamford University and Albert Einstein College. Out of his compassion and hard work in the field, he was able to accomplish all the trainings successfully. In his over 25 years of practice, Dr. Levin has been demonstrating competence and excellence in his line of work and he prioritizes safety in every management implemented.

Through his advancement in his medical education, Dr. Levin pursued specialization of Interventional Pain Management, which serves him and his patients well at the Pennsylvania Spine and Headache Center which is located at 760 W Lincoln Hwy in Exton, Pennsylvania.

Dr. Levin's hard work, determination, and compassion has gotten him recognitions and has able him to participate in various associations such as NASPMS and PMS. Aside from his presence in numerous associations, Dr. Levin has been known for his expertise in the field of Pain Management. He attributes his success in his vigorous diagnostic processes, being innovative, and his strive for excellence. Without a doubt, Dr. Levin's proficiency serves a lot of patients.